

Generate Cash Flow From Your Passion!

Writer2Writer.com

Income Boosting Ideas

*Issue #1 (September 2007)

© Cheryl Wright & Writer2Writer.com

The international holidays shown below will be celebrated and highlighted world-wide. You can be ahead of the game by researching each of these events and submitting to magazines.

The majority have links provided. Clicking on those links will take you to websites where you can research the events in advance, and in many cases find ideas to explore.

2007:

- November-25 International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women
- November-30 International Computer Security Day
- December-1 World AIDS Day
- December-2 International Day for the Abolition of Slavery
- December-5 International Day of Disabled Persons
- December-5 International Volunteers Day
- December-7 International Civil Aviation Day
- December-10 Human Rights Day

2008:

- January-1 Global Family Day
- January-8 World Literary Day
- January-11 International Thank-You Day
- February-29 Leap Day

Here are some other dates to keep in mind for queries; some from the US, and others from Australia:

US, 2008 –

January-8	The King's Birthday (ELVIS)
January-9	Balloon Ascension Day
January-12	National Pharmacist Day
January-12	Stephen Foster Memorial Day
January-16	Religious Freedom Day
January-21	Martin Luther King Jr. (1929-1968)
February-8	Boy Scout Day
February-12	Lincoln's Birthday
February-14	St. Valentine's Day

Australia, 2008 –

January-26	Australia Day
February-14	St. Valentine's Day
May-8	Red Cross Day
May-11	Mother's Day
May-12	Chronic Fatigue Syndrome Day
May-12	Nurse's Day
May-22	Corpus Christi
May-25	National Jordan Day
May-26	Sorry Day
May-27- to June-3	Reconciliation Week
May-30	Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal
May-31	No Tobacco Day

Once you have your ideas outlined, you'll need to find markets. There are several places I get my markets, and none of them are from free listings. Following are the resources I use on a regular basis:

Moira Allen's How to Write for Magazines contains information on how to actually write non-fiction articles and also comes with several market guides.

These are just a small sampling of Hope Clark's market guides:

Short and Sweet

Laughing Markets

Just Hit Send

To see the full range, go here. They are all very cheap – less than the price of a pizza – and all contain paying markets only. (And are updated regularly.)

Another resource you may find helpful is Nick Daws' Quick Cash Writing ebook. If you've read my review on this book, you'll know I was extremely impressed with it.

And of course, I can't leave out my own book Writing for Profit: Break into Magazines. In addition to detailed information of what you need to know to break into this arena, you also receive my exclusive markets for freelance writers.

Okay, I think I've provided enough information to keep you going for several months!

Remember, it is possible to make an income from writing, but it will take time, knowledge, and effort.

Cheryl

This FREE publication is copyright to Cheryl Wright & Writer2Writer.com – and you may freely pass it onto your friends and acquaintances.

For more income boosting ideas, join our FREE newsletter by clicking here.

Disclaimer: Inclusion of a market, contest, anthology or similar is not necessarily an endorsement. It is strongly suggested that you do your own legwork in checking out any markets etc you decide to approach. If you feel wary or uncomfortable, there's probably a reason!